Who will benefit from this work?

How many people might benefit from this work? (Please try not to overestimate – we value quality work with smaller numbers of people as much as larger-scale projects.)

If you receive funding from us, what food and health activities will you set up? Tell us how you will develop or deliver the work. If you have told us in Q2 about any existing food-related activities, please tell us about any plans you have to develop them.

Please give a brief description of this planned work.

We expect you to spend the money by September 2018.

When do you plan to spend the money?

Tell us if you have any ideas or plans about how you could continue some or all of the activities after spending the money we provide.

Do you have any long-term plans for the future of this work?

- Tell us how your planned work could help contribute to the policies and programmes you have ticked above.

For example:

- Your planned cooking course might contribute to the aims of the Preventing Obesity Route Map by increasing the cooking skills of people attending cooking workshops.
 - Your planned work might contribute to the aims of Becoming a Good Food Nation by selling a wider range of affordable fruit and vegetables near where people live or work.
- Tell us if your planned work might bring benefits beyond food and health to your organisation, the community and/or participants.

For example:

- Cooking skills sessions for families might aim to improve parenting skills.
- Tell us if your planned work fits in with any additional policies.

How will your planned food activities contribute to the aims of the development fund?

Tell us how you know there is a need for this work. This could include information you have gathered from speaking with people who use or might use your services.

How do you know this work is needed and wanted?

Tell us how you plan to learn from, monitor or evaluate the activities. For example:

- for cooking skills you might observe and take notes on how people develop their vegetable chopping skills
- for a food co-op you might keep a record of fruit and vegetable sales
- for a group activity you might ask people informally how their confidence to take part in social activities has changed.

How will you find out if your planned activities have made a difference?

6 Money
